

Bill Clinton Comments on California Recall

In September 2003, former President Bill Clinton spoke out against the effort to recall the California Governor Gray Davis. Clinton's argument against the recall made the following point:

Why would anyone make a hard decision again? What if we had immediate recall of every teacher, every preacher? What if kids could recall their parents?