

More on Slippery Slope Fallacy

We cannot allow gay marriage. If we do, and we allow people to marry others of the same sex, where would it stop? There would be new laws that allowed people to marry animals, for adults to marry children, for people to marry members of their immediate family.

If marijuana were legalized, then practically every other drug would be legalized too heroin, cocaine, you name it. So we cannot even consider marijuana legalization.